

On Ignorance and Devilish Behaviour

Mohammad Ziaul Hoque

Abstract

The relationship between incompetency and devilish behaviour is linear. Incompetency is the product of lack of knowledge, skills and positive attitude. Devilish behaviour is associated with ignorance, irrationality and bad attitudes. Persistent gun-violence, domestic violence and terrorist activities that engulfed the whole world are the product of incompetency and devilish behaviour. Although there are many papers on violence and violent activities, none has focused on how ignorance and devilish behaviour contribute to these various forms violence. This paper intends to develop theoretical underpinnings on the issue which can be tested through field or case study.
